The 79th annual Columbiana county fair at the Liebon fair grounds reported at noon today the largest attendance registered in its history.

The race track oval was filled with automobiles before noon today, hundreds of machines being parked in the parking grounds outside the fair grounds. The greatest crowd in its history is expected to be registered before Thursday night.

This morning's program opened with a band concert by the Presbyterian band of Lisbon. It was followed by a cattle parade to the fair grounds. Cattle judging started at 9 a. m. in charge of Prof. Blackman of Ohio State university, while William Franklin, also of Ohio State was in charge of the sheep judging.

The Columbiana county horticulture society placed on exhibition today a large apple exhibit displayed in a new stand. Another fruit exhibit is expected to reach record marks.

Only one orange exhibit was in the main hall. This was a variety of the Greeley orange, No. 1741, of Honesworth. A large exhibit of the county farm bureau, and "Raise Better Babies" feature of the county health department are features of the opening day.

Edith McMichael and Mary Tucker of Lisbon, are in charge of the health display.

The race program was to start at 2 p. m. after the fair races began on the program. O. R. Beckwith, Ashabula, is starter, and O. R. Rogers, Lisbon, is clerk.

There have not been selected. This race program will be resumed Thursday, the fair's closing day. A 2:14 pace, 2:18 pace, and a trot is scheduled.

MERCHANTS ASK FOR REASON OF RATE INCREASE

Protest Filed at Columbus
By East Liverpool
Store Owners

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—A protest was filed today with the state utility commission by Harry Altman, of East Liverpool and 18 other merchants of East Liverpool opposing application of the Ohio Power company for approval of new electricity rates. The commission is asked to conduct a hearing. The protesters charged that the proposed rates increase the rate to merchants from 7 to 9 per cent and the rates for residences are increased.

Why the increase on the one hand and the decrease on the other? the protesters asked. "We are asked to pay for the purpose of increasing the income of the company and not for the convenience of the public."

Our stores are never open before 5 a. m. nor after 5:30 p. m. except on Saturday evenings, and then only for a short time. The protest committee is asking the commission to order the motor power users to pay during the same hours and away beyond while they pay a rate much smaller. We use practically during the same hours. Why the discrimination?"

Republican Leader Is Dangerously Ill

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—Col. D. O. Morrow, Ohio Republican leader, President Harding's special representative on the reparations commission in Germany, was hospitalized today, with but little hope for his complete recovery by his physicians.

Morrow suffered a paralytic stroke a short time ago. He was 60 years old. Morrow was recognized G. O. P. leader in the sixth district. He also was a member of the Republican central committee.

She hinted that wedding bells would ring out during the Yuletide.

Campaign Pressure Keeps Hoover Busy

Fishing Trip Down Chesapeake Bay Is Postponed;
Conference With Coolidge Scheduled;
Air, Veterans Discussed

Washington, Sept. 12.—A conference with President Coolidge was to feature Herbert Hoover's program today, although the Republican nominee hoped to put the final touches on his labor speech to be delivered at Newark next Monday night.

The nominee planned to greet the president and to discuss campaign matters with him at the White House during the forenoon. It may be they will reach a decision on the part the president will play in helping to elect Hoover to the presidency. The president was said to have offered to make a speech on two in behalf of the nominee but no definite decision was reached.

It appeared likely that Hoover will have to forego a contemplated fishing trip down Chesapeake Bay, owing to pressure of campaign duties. He twice has postponed the trip and unless he can get away for a few days at the end of this week, he probably will get no fishing until after the election.

Hoover has given some attention to aviation and veteran legislation in the last few days, in addition to working on the Newark speech. He told newspapermen that congratulations were in order for the winners of the air derby in which the "safety and reliability" of air travel under present conditions.

In talking to a group of veterans' representatives, Hoover declared he believed the whole nation "recognizes our national obligation to our veterans." He told how the government was providing pensions and compensation to 835,292 men and women, at a total cost of $576,943,000 a year.

"This represents the one important division of the government where the policy has been to increase rather than to reduce expenditures," he said. "This is as it should be. This government must not be extravagant but it must be just. It has been so, and I should wish it to continue."

The nominee was very gratified by the results of the Maine election but he declined to comment publicly on the Republican victory. Its size however was hailed by his advisers as indicating a landslide Republican victory in November.

OFFICER'S SHOT KILLS FUGITIVE

Man Runs After Stabbing
Affair and is Shot
While Fleeing

Cleveland, Sept. 12.—After stabbing and seriously wounding Everett Teare, 33, a negro, last night, J. Willie Jones, also a negro, was shot and killed when he attempted to escape from two detectives.

The detectives, Harry Hotchkiss and Peter Allen, said Jones fled along the street when they attempted to arrest him. Both fired at once and one of the bullets struck the fugitive, killing him almost instantly. On two previous occasions, Hotchkiss and Allen have killed criminals who resisted arrest.

Hotchkiss also figured in a shooting affray in which a patrolman and a burglar were killed.

Policewoman Finds Liquor Concealment

Toledo, Sept. 12.—When a police liquor squad raided the home of Mrs. Mary Deck here, the housewife promptly betook herself and her two-week-old baby to bed, although it lacked many hours of bedtime.

Non-plussed, the officers called Sgt. Margaret Slater, familiar with feminine wiles, to assist them. Sgt. Slater went to the heart of the matter—the infant—and found two quarts of liquor concealed beneath the baby, police report.

Mrs. Deck was charged with possession.

SMITH FORCES SKEPTICAL OF G. O. P. CLAIMS

Statements That West Is For Hoover In Body,

PLAN INTENSIVE DRIVE IN REGION

Figures of Recent Ballot
Have Tendency To Confuse

(By GEORGE R. HOLMES)
Albany, Sept. 12.—The claim so persistently advanced by Republican spokesmen at Washington that Gov. Smith will not carry a single western agricultural state in November is receiving scant and scornful attention from the Democratic nominee and his advisers here.

For one thing, they don't believe it. For another they are now up to their eyes in plans for a spectacular assault on this same citadel of claimed Republican strength, and, whether it is real, assumed, or merely hopeful there is an atmosphere of considerable confidence discernable about Albany headquarters.

Some of this confidence undoubtedly has been engendered by prominent western Democrats like ex-Senator Gilbert Hitchcock dropping into Albany for personal conferences with the governor, without exception, these visitors have assured Gov. Smith that the farm revolt against the Republican administration is not abating, that it is real, and that if he takes a "real progressive message" into the grain belt every state becomes a battle ground irrespective of normal Republican tinges.

Confidence Reason
That accounts for some of the confidence. More of it, probably, has been evolved through an analysis of the 1924 election figures in the grain belt states which has been made for Gov. Smith as a part of the preparation for his western tour which begins next Sunday.

This analysis reveals some interesting figures on the eight states which Gov. Smith will visit during the next two weeks—Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

It shows that of the eight states, President Coolidge was defeated in two, despite the Republican landslide. Davis carried Oklahoma by 30,000 and La Follette carried Wisconsin by 142,000. This pair of states has 23 electoral votes.

Coolidge A Winner
In three others, Nebraska, Montana, and North Dakota, President Coolidge was a minority winner; that is the combined Davis-LaFollette total which the Smith advisers deem anti-Republican and anti-administration, exceeded that of Coolidge, although the president captured the electoral vote. In Nebraska, the anti-Coolidge margin was 25,000; in North Dakota, 8,000; in Montana 21,000. This trio of states has 17 electoral votes.

Thus, of the eight states upon which Governor Smith will train his guns next week, only two, Minnesota and Kansas, are actual Republican states.

Secrecy Enshrouds Cuyahoga County's Vote Investigation

Cleveland, Sept. 12.—Shrouded in secrecy the investigation of alleged election irregularities here was continued today by Atty. Gen. Edward C. Turner.

As reported preparations got under way for the calling of a special grand jury. It was stated that the attorney general had already uncovered sufficient evidence to indict six men. It could not be learned whether the indictments would involve precinct officials or men higher up in the election machinery.

Assisted by the Cleveland Bar association, the state's attorney delved into records of the board of elections of the votes of the primary, Aug. 14, and for other elections as far back as 1924. Turner was reported to be investigating the defeat of Judge Alva R. Corlett in the municipal election four years ago.

Mayor Groh Faces Another Blue Task

Dover, O., Sept. 12.—When Mayor P. Groh succeeded in suppressing Sunday movies here last March his troubles appeared to be over.

Now the mayor is confronted with another problem—that of stopping the ancient practice of horseshoe pitching, on Sunday.

An affidavit has been filed against two Dover men charging them with obstructing an alley last Sunday with a game of horseshoes.

Horseshoe pitching fans have manifested interest in the outcome of the case and partisans on both sides have engaged in heated arguments on the moot question: "To pitch or not to pitch" on Sunday.

Judge Awaits Fee For Wedding Pair

Toledo, O., Sept. 12.—Municipal Judge Ramey today was awaiting with more than passing interest the outcome of one matrimonial affair at which he officiated yesterday—for upon the success of the nuptial venture depends the jurist's fees.

"How much do I owe you," queried the canny bridegroom after the ceremony had been completed.

"Oh, whatever you think it is worth," Judge Ramey answered. The "lucky" man took the jurist at his word.

"I'll wait a few weeks and see how I get along with my wife—and then I might decide you owe me money," he declared as he took his bride by the arm and strolled nonchalantly out of Judge Ramey's office.

BEATTY FAILS TO APPEAR AT INVESTIGATION

East Liverpool Man Said
To Be In Pittsburgh;
Case Continued

Columbus, Sept. 12.—Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds today continued for two weeks the case in which Attorney General Edward C. Turner asked that Commerce Director Earl B. Bloom, Bowling Green, be required to file with the secretary of state a complete and correct statement of receipts and expenditures incident to his campaign which ended in his defeat as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor at the August 14 primary election.

The continuance was granted upon the joint request of counsel for Bloom and Assistant Attorney General L. Cray Davis, representing the attorney general. It was explained that Bloom expected to file an amended statement with the secretary of state within the next two weeks.

The hearing in the similar case instituted by the attorney general against James C. Beatty, East Liverpool, also an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, was postponed indefinitely pending effort by the court to ascertain whether Beatty had been legally notified of the hearing scheduled for Monday.

In these suits, Turner charged that Bloom and Beatty filed incomplete statements with the secretary of state and that they failed to comply with requirements of the Ohio corrupt practices act.

Beatty did not appear in the court here today. Returning from the court room to the attorney general's office, Davis telephoned the Columbus county sheriff's office and was told that Beatty had gone to Pittsburgh. Questioned whether Beatty had been properly served with a notice of the suit arose when it was learned that a deputy sheriff had left the summons in a hotel room at East Liverpool said to have been occupied by Beatty.

REVOLT CRISIS IN SPAIN DUE TO COME TODAY

Thousands Arrested, But Leaders Are Still At Large

STRICT CENSORSHIP RULES IN NATION

Officials Do Not Believe
Attempt Will Be Made at Madrid

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Sept. 12.—With strict censorship prevailing, it was believed a crisis in the revolutionary movement of the military faction against the Spanish dictator Primo De Rivera was being reached today.

Thousands have been arrested in this latest and probably most virulent attempt to depose General De Rivera. But the leaders of the movement against the dictator and uncounted numbers of their followers are still free and active and fragmentary reports coming through the censorship indicate that the next 24 hours will show the dictator either in complete sway again or deposed.

May Be In Paris
Jose Sanchez Guerra, the leader of the conservative party who recently left Spain, is believed to be directing the revolutionary movement from Paris. Among others backing the movement are three generals, Castro Girona, Miguel Weyler and Francisco Aguilera, and a former president of congress, Miguel Villanueva.

The government today ordered the arrest of Guerra, Villanueva and also Francis Cambo, who led the Catalan regionalists in their attempt to revolt two years ago this autumn. Villanueva and Cambo have also left the country. Before leaving, Villanueva, action as Guerra's emissary, travelled throughout Spain laying plans for the movement.

Republican Round-Up
In the round-up of Republican leaders started by the government, Alexander Lloroux, chief of the Spanish Republican party in Barcelona, and Roberto Casirovico and Felix Azzati, former Republican deputies of Valencia, have been arrested.

From authentic sources it was learned that the conspirators do not plan any action against Madrid as they have not sufficient strength in the capital. Instead they are centering their plans about Barcelona, Sargosa and Valencia. They are believed to have the support of the military garrison at Barcelona.

In Valencia alone, the government has made more than three hundred arrests. The troops in the Garrison there are confined to their barracks, government leaders fearing they may be in sympathy with the revolutionary movement.

Communists and extremists are not involved in the present movement, which has been developed for two years by military and Republican leaders.

Rumors of plans for an extensive rebellion against Primo De Rivera, who has been dictator five years, became current last July when King Alfonso transferred his home to the summer capital, San Sebastian. At that time about 500 suspects were arrested.

Not Guilty Plea Is Entered by Lorain Man Facing Murder

Lorain, Sept. 12.—Charged with murdering his wife, Emory Horwath, 41, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in municipal court here today and was held, without bond, for the county grand jury. He was to be removed to the county jail at Elyria this afternoon.

Horwath has confessed that he shot his wife yesterday during an argument over financial matters. She was working in an ironing boarding and at the height of the quarrel, spat in his face, he related. He then went to his room, procured a pistol, returned and shot her to death, according to his confession. Walking into police headquarters he announced:

"I have just killed my wife—go and get her."

Horwath has five children by a former marriage. He married his second wife three years ago after the first had been killed in a tornado.

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—State prohibition officers today were seeking for the owners of six stills which were confiscated near New Straitsville late last night. The stills, according to state prohibition men were located in five abandoned mines.

One of the stills, it was reported, was located in one of the burning mines of this district.

Several of the others were found only after the searchers had requisitioned boats and searched the inundated parts of the mines.

MAYOR TO AID INVESTIGATION OF CORRUPTION

Philadelphia Officers Are Said To Have Taken
Hush Money

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—Mayor Harry A. Mackey will make his own investigation or charges of police corruption which have come from the grand jury probe of gang and liquor ring activities in the city, it was reported today.

The mayor's probe will be independent of the inquiry now being conducted by District Attorney John Monaghan.

The mayor's announced investigation came as a surprise, although it had been expected he would call certain police captains to explain why they had not cleaned up their districts when ordered.

Records showing that police officials of a certain district were on the weekly payroll of a large distillery raided by Monaghan's forces have been turned over to the prosecutor, it was disclosed. The books list a fixed amount for the district officers it is said.

The captain is listed for $75, district detectives for $50 each and sergeants for $25. City hall detectives also were paid the books show. The books carried the full names of each man receiving pay but Monaghan has refused to make them public at this time.

The raid on the plant was made so secretly that even none of the police or detectives knew of it. The plant was in full operation in the center of one of the districts ordered to clean up.

A new lead has developed Monaghan said today that has called the chief of the county detectives out of town following it. The prosecutor expects extremely valuable information from the new tip.

At the investigation yesterday it was brought out that Anna Conroy, the girl who was listed as owner of a large alcohol plant was in no way mixed up with the ownership of the distilling place. A number of witnesses were quizzed by the grand jury but no additional evidence adduced was made public.

Roosevelt Field, Sept. 12.—A telephone call was received from McMillan by Captain Day, chairman of the starting committee that he had been forced down on top of a mountain eight miles west of Wilkes-Barre.

McMillan, according to the telephone report, was forced to descend by the stripping of a small gear on the camshaft.

He was unhurt. He reported that except for the stripping of the gear the plane was unhurt. He requested that a plane with repair parts be sent to him at once.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The non-stop race of the trans-continental air derby started at 11:35 o'clock this morning when Clifford McMillan, of Syracuse, N. Y., took off for Mines field, Los Angeles, al., in a Stinson-Detroit monoplane, with C. A. Herrick as a passenger.

A large crowd saw McMillan zoom into the air and head in a southerly direction—a larger crowd than witnessed any of the three trans-continental races which preceded the non-stop flight.

Among the spectators was Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, who flew from Point Barrow to Spitzbergen. Another spectator was Dean Smith, pilot of the Byrd Antarctic expedition.

McMillan's plane made a smooth take off starting from the east end of the runway and dipping slightly shortly after the wheels left the ground on the west end. The plane disappeared to the southwestward in a slight ground haze which restricted ground visibility to about two miles.

Weather conditions which had threatened to cause postponement of the derby, improved this morning. At 10:30 local weather was clear, and fair weather conditions were predicted for most of the route. Very early today the winds were (Continued on Page 4)

Marion, Sept. 12.—Believing that the tract of 104 acres, proposed as Marion's airport site, would not afford sufficient space, city council today was on record as having opposed the tract in favor of a 140-acre tract, following last night's meeting. The new site is just south of the former proposed site, and two miles west of Marion.

The resolution passed by council favors the purchase of the 140-acre tract for $12,600.

ORGANIZED CRIME

In the event that District Attorney Monaghan makes good his published statements in regard to organized crime and a debauched police department in Philadelphia, as the disclosures resulting from the seizure of the books of a firm of public accountants there indicate may be possible, the City of Brotherly Love is liable to be held in the public mind as the worst hotbed of political graft and official corruption in the country.

The conditions which are said to exist in Philadelphia have been held similar to those attributed to Chicago, which have brought the latter city so low in public esteem, but there is some difference. The chief cause of Chicago's ill-repute has been a long succession of murders, the majority of them having been cases where gangsters preyed upon each other. There have been charges of police corruption, charges that her courts have been influenced by political pressure, charges that there has been collusion between some of her police and the gangsters, rum-runners and bootleggers responsible in great degree for her bad name. But while the Windy City's murder record is not to be denied it may be said that up to the present, at least, those investigating crime conditions there have not been in position to charge such a close connection between organized crime on the one hand and official and supposedly decent business life on the other as has been charged in Philadelphia.

The bulk of Chicago's crime has been laid at the door of her gunmen, her gangsters, her rum runners and her bootleggers, as previously stated, but has not been alleged to have extended to her citizens held decent and respectable by general route and if any sum of money has been traced to any official high in her police department, the story of it has escaped our attention.

In the Philadelphia case, District Attorney Monaghan has in his possession records which he asserts not only show that the enormous total of $10,000,000 has been paid out by the liquor ring there in the last seven years, but also disclose the names of high police officials—parties to the corruption. He claims to have evidence that one high official received $200,000 in one month from the liquor interests, and that detectives and patrolmen were paid from $50 to $500 a month "to look the other way," as he put it, when rum-runners were passing. Not only this, but there is the implication that several citizens of high repute in business life know more of the corruption which exists in the Pennsylvania city than they should.

Something like three years ago the statement was made in these columns that the greatest problem facing this country was that of crime; that crime conditions were becoming such that soon the situation would be one to menace all rights of person and property, all law and order, and government itself; that crime was building up an organization which unless it was checked, would soon be an influence in the control of the forces on which we depend for the preservation of law and order. The three years last passed have offered nothing to change the view, and much to strengthen it.

What Others Say

PROFESSIONAL BOLTERS

In a special appeal to the educators of the country, 36 American professors representing a number of universities and colleges urge a revolt against both the major political parties and support of the Socialist presidential candidate. They say that the country needs a radical or progressive party, and that the Socialists, despite all objections that may be raised against their platform or their past policies, deserve hearty approval because they "have put themselves at the head of the liberal forces of the country."

The 36 professors affirm that neither of the two great parties has the courage, the sincerity or the intelligence to grapple with the vital problems facing the United States, such as control of super-power, unemployment and justice and sanity in foreign affairs. Behind Hoover and Smith, the professors say categorically, are "the same sterile and corrupt forces which have ruled the country for the last half century."

Some of the signers of this manifesto teach history, political science or sociology. It is difficult to account for their bizarre interpretation of the political, governmental and administrative developments of the last several decades. Is the country indebted to "sterile and corrupt forces" for the anti-trust laws, for the system of public utility regulation, for accident, compensation to workers, for direct primaries, for popular election of federal senators, for universal suffrage, for the federal reserve act, for the farm loan banks, for the arbitration treaties now crowned by the Kellogg anti-war pact, for the tariff commission and the opportunity to do away with log-rolling and blind guessing in tariff-making, for the prohibition law?

There is no labor party or radical party in the United States simply because the would-be leaders who favor such a party—with the British labor party as their avowed model—have mustered but few followers. Union labor is opposed to a labor party. The principal demands of the progressive party of Roosevelt have been or are in process of being incorporated into the platforms of the historic political organizations.

The old parties, indeed, need admonition and warning against time-serving, evasion and timidity. They can survive only if they are fit to survive, and fitness means adaptation to new conditions and willingness honestly to face new issues as these arise. But to say that the major parties are both hopelessly sterile and corrupt is to sin against the open record of the half century appealed to by the professional bolters and to affront hosts of liberals who work within those parties and largely share and direct their activities.—Chicago News.

AN IRREGULAR PULSE
MAY FOLLOW ILLNESSBy Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

It is not uncommon to compare the human body to a delicate and perfectly made machine. In many respects the comparison is a good one, but it can be carried too far.

I recall an electric light plant newly installed in a hospital where I served. We would set a nickel on edge on any stationary part and there was not sufficient vibration to disturb the coin. The machine operated perfectly.

You must not expect the heart to be so regular in its function. It was never intended to be. But it can adjust itself to the varying conditions of existence, overcoming obstacles making its own repairs, replacing worn parts, and never stopping its activity almost from conception to the very end of life.

The absolutely perfect heart in an absolutely perfect person is likely to be regular in its pulsations, going steadily along, quite deliberate in its action. If the pulse drops a beat now and then, is painfully slow, or suddenly develops speed like a race horse, the symptom deserves attention.

But one of these happenings is by no means a sign of something dangerous. It is probably due to some passing thing and is of no consequence whatever. Indeed, any one of these symptoms may be a chronic and ever-present condition and yet be of little importance.

There are lots of persons, really in pretty good health, who have considerable irregularity of the heart's action. The doctors give it a long, hard name—"arrhythmia."

Of course, in simple language, this means nothing more than lack of rhythm.

It is not at all an uncommon thing to find that the pulse of young children and of young adults, too, is quite irregular. As they grow older, the heart settles down to perfect regularity.

After a severe attack of one of the fevers, the heart's rhythm may be disturbed for a time. Great care must be taken after certain diseases for instance diphtheria and influenza. These ailments have a tendency to attack the heart muscle and sometime they damage it seriously. Other fevers may disturb the heart for a time, but do it little real harm. The loss of rhythm is likely to be restored when recovery is complete.

Most of what we call the "functional irregularities" of the heart disappear as soon as the victim exercises vigorously. When I was a young doctor I was a United States Pension Examining surgeon. One of our associates on the board was a wonderful doctor. He knew more about the heart than any other physician I ever met.

The examining board met in my office, on the third floor of the building. When we had an ex-service man with an irregular heart, my colleague would direct him to run down the stairs to the street and return at once, walking rapidly up the stairs. It was surprising how many disturbed and irregular hearts would become steady as a clock after this rather strenuous exertion.

Of course, seriously diseased hearts would not be benefited by exercise. On the contrary, violent effort might do real harm. All the symptoms, including the irregularity, may be greatly increased by it.

Dyspepsia, anemia, excessive nervousness, the abuse of liquor, tobacco, tea or coffee, over worry and over work—these are among the causes of irregular action of the heart. Plenty of sleep and out of door life will help to restore health. Nothing is more important than the chewing of proper food with good teeth and leading the sort of existence we call "sensible living."

TOMORROW—Another article on the heart.

DEM CHIEFTAINS BRING OFFICIAL INTO ARGUMENT

Claim Assistant Secretary Attacked Record Of Al Smith

New York, Sept. 12.—Declaring they had definitely connected a number of the wide-spread attacks upon Governor Alfred E. Smith's administration with the Republican campaign, Democratic national campaign managers today brought Seymour Lewman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, into the acrimonious verbal warfare begun early in the campaign by William Allen

White. Name appears in 19. Lewman's name appeared among a list of 20 references mentioned by Rev. O. R. Miller of Albany, in the latest pamphlet relative to Smith's votes in the New York assembly between 1904 and 1914. The pamphlet itself, dealing almost exclusively with Smith's votes on bills affecting the saloon, was described by Lewman as his answer to Smith's attack upon him in his reply to the Albany White broadsheet. Lewman's first statement was in the New York Times, based upon Miller's bulletins, and was attacked by the New York Civic League.

Governor Smith stated emphatically in his reply to White, whose pamphlet he characterized as "cowardly," that he would not take cognizance of further attacks of this kind. In view of the recent denunciation, however, by Chairman Mark of the Republican national committee of the campaign of personal vilification against Governor Smith, the Democratic managers figure if Lewman is willing to persist in use of his name or the publication of the New York Civic League.

Clark Joins. Charles W. Clark, New York financier and son of the late Senator William A. Clark of Montana, today declared for Governor Smith in the prohibition issue. Himself a holder of extensive mining properties and a Republican for 30 years, Clark declared that only through the election of Smith can the nation be freed of "the riotry, destruction and crime incident to prohibition."

Clark, with the final result from Monday's Republican primary in Maine, revealing a majority of approximately 80,000 for Governor O. P. gubernatorial nominee as well as a falling-off of 15,000 in the Democratic vote as against the state elections there, the Democratic high command today abandoned the state to Hoover in theember elections.

Officers Named By Catholic Knights

Catholic Knights of Ohio were returning to their homes today following election of officers late yesterday when they met at the home of Mrs. N. Gabel, Fremont, to elect their new president. Father John A. Schaffeld, Cleveland, was named the new state spiritual director. Other officers chosen are: Peter J. Man, Cincinnati, vice president; George J. Mathauer, Cleveland, secretary; Dr. B. A. Moloney, Sandusky, medical director; Dr. G. Hauck, Cincinnati, leonard, and Fred Sullivan, Toledo, Dennis Ryan, Cincinnati, and Thomas Gangler, Delphos, trustees. The next convention city is to be decided later by the officers.

But if preference is for a more conservative style, the back may be cut to give the bolero effect. Long tight sleeves are shown; are neat; but the bolero is also effective with wristband. The two belts are especially attractive and chic. In satin with contrasting trimmings, this frock is most desirable for all daytime occasions. Gas Fumes Sweep Over German Town

Halle, Germany, Sept. 12.—This city today got a taste of what it might expect in future wartime when aviators attack cities with gas. A cloud of sulphurous gas was blown over the city from nearby Legnite lines poisoning hundreds of residents, including many children. Many were made so ill they had to be treated by doctors. The whole population was thrown into panic. It was necessary to close the schools.

The last will of the late Mark Miller of Lisbon, has been filed for probate. Mr. Miller, who was one of the most active oil operators in this part of the state died July 7. His widow, Jennie Miller has been bequeathed the income and dividends on 100,000 shares of stock of the par value of $100 a share during her lifetime, and at the death of the widow 20,000 shares have been bequeathed to a daughter, Blanche Miller Webb, to be hers absolutely. Mary Miller Wright is also bequeathed under this same proviso, 20,000 shares and the son, Dan Miller, 60,000 shares.

A sister Blanche McKay, has been bequeathed $5,000 in either stocks or money as she may elect.

The widow has also been bequeathed a half interest in all the oil and gas properties in which Mr. Miller was interested at the time of his death, and a similar interest has been bequeathed to the son, Dan Miller. At the death of the widow her half interest in the oil and gas properties goes to the son.

Slander Suits

Two suits for slander, wherein $25,000 damage is sought in each action have been filed in common pleas court by Roy D. Thomas of Homeworth against John B. Mattie of near Homeworth and Goldie Mattie.

The petitions have been filed by Attorney E. P. Speidel of Alliance, and in the suit against Mattie, it is declared that the defendant falsely uttered in the presence of others that the plaintiff stole 30 white Leghorn chickens from the defendant, and also that the plaintiff obtained a truck from a man at Alliance and "never paid a penny for it."

In the petition against Goldie Mattie, Thomas declares that this defendant said Thomas took $25 dollars from their home when he stayed there over night in 1924; that he stole two fly nets from his grandfather and that when the plaintiff was in the real estate business at Alliance he "beat some poor people out of every cent they had," and "that Thomas was a crook and the truth was not in him."

Seeks Divorce

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty and habitual drunkenness for over a period of three years, a divorce has been granted Lettie Brown against her husband Albert Brown. The temporary injunction granted in this cause when the petition was filed, has been made permanent by the court.

Gross neglect of duty was charged in the petition for divorce filed recently by Clara Nicholson Farley against her husband Samuel Farley, and a decree has been granted the plaintiff on this ground upon the payment of costs.

Case Dismissed

APPROPRIATION FOR CENSUS TO BE REQUESTED

National Business Backs Move of Commerce Department

Washington, Sept. 12.—Backed by national interests the commerce department today was preparing to ask the bureau of the budget for a sufficient appropriation to carry on a national distribution census in connection with the general enumeration of population and manufacturers in 1930.

Probably one of the most essential requirements of business, an accurate knowledge of the volume of distribution of America's vast industrial and business plant, would contribute another step in the government's campaign to drive depressions and panics into the economic scrap heap.

Most of the big wastes have been eliminated from the production machine, with manufacturers applying scientific principles to their operations, but there are still vast potential savings in the excessively extravagant distributing system.

Distributors have not as a rule taken advantage of the modern knowledge of business nor have they applied to their operations the scientific technique which has permitted manufacturers materially to reduce the cost of production. As a result while there are decreases in production overhead, the entire advantage has not reached the consumer because of wasteful distribution.

Sixteen class B planes and three class C craft were poised at the head of the runway at Fly field here ready to start their hop to San Diego, Cal., at 8 a. m. Rockwell Field, San Diego, Calif., Sept. 12.—Still in the vanguard, E. E. Ballough, Chicago airman, was the first to land here today, after completing the hop from Yuma, Ariz., in the class B transcontinental air derby.

Ballough brought his Laird plane to earth at 8:34:42 a. m. (Pacific Coast time).

Close on the heels of Ballough, came John Livingston of Monmouth, Ill., in a Waco, followed by John P. Wood of Wassau, Wis., also flying a Waco.

majority to the Coolidge-Dawes ticket in 1924. In Minnesota, the margin was only 25,000 out of a total vote of 815,000. In Kansas alone was the Coolidge victory impressive. There it was 173,000 in a total vote of 660,000.

These figures have made considerable impression upon Governor Smith and his advisers. As they view it, the chances of the Smith-Robinson ticket next November in the grain belt are not nearly so thin as some of the Republican spokesmen in Washington would have the country believe.

The big question, they admit, is where will the LaFollette vote of 1924 go in 1928? They ask if the followers of the late "fighting Bob" are any more fond of Hoover than they were of Coolidge. Again they assert they don't believe so.

And in support of their contention they point out that Senator "Young Bob," who stepped into his father's shoes, Senator John J. Blaine, his Wisconsin colleague, and Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, the insurgent leader of the senate, have yet to come out in spite of Hoover-Curtis ticket. They haven't come out for Smith. They are merely remaining silent.

The magnitude of the Republican victory in Maine on Monday, greater even than the Republicans had dared hope for, did not make the slightest dent in the confidence around Smith headquarters.

"I never was optimistic enough to think of Maine going other than Republican," said the governor. "Grover Cleveland never carried it, did he? No, nor any other Democratic candidate for president, save Wilson in 1912, and that was because of the Bull Moose split."

VON ELM OUT OF GOLF PLAY

Mushball Season To Conclude With Play Scheduled For Friday

If there is strength in numbers—and it is said that there is—Salem High school should have another county championship football aggregation this year.

Three full teams turned out for a hard workout last night at Reilly stadium, with more candidates expected before the first week of practice is completed.

Included in the thirty-odd men was plenty of quality—not only quantity—many of the underclassmen blossoming out into promising varsity players, threatening to continue Salem High's hold on the county grid crown for the third successive year.

And it is well that Head Coach Floyd Stone has available these youngsters. Graduation last year took a heavy toll of lettermen and the outlook at the close of last season was far from good. Several freshmen, appearing in Red and Black regalia for the first time this year, in addition to other new faces, looked especially good.

Stone, assisted by J. M. Ruffner, assistant coach has been working the squad hard in hopes that top form will be reached by the opening of the season with Louisville, which is scheduled for Reilly field September 22. Louisville, a small school, always turns out a strong team, and last year Salem hopes when they were highest, by licking the locals. This year, Louisville is said to be even stronger than last season.

Hold Scrimmage Session

A scrimmage session was held last night between the "A" and "B" squads picked by Stone. The "A" squad lined up as follows:

Guilford and Pasco, ends; Van Baricorn and Yates, tackles; Capt. Scullion, center; Weber and Sartick, guards; Konner, quarterback; Slinger and Smith, halves, and Munnerly, fullback.

On the opposing "B" squad were: Barley and Schilling, ends; Terry and Corso, tackles; Linton and Baintine, guards; Gordy Scullion, center; Willie Smith, quarterback; Volpe and Drackulich, halfbacks, and Yarwood, fullback.

The scrimmage showed many players, even last year's lettermen had still plenty of edges to be smoothed off. It was only the second scrimmage workout, and the weather was entirely too hot for too hard work.

Tonight, Stone announced after practice to the "fellows who have shown in practice that they deserve it."

"It all depends on what you put out while working for a place on the team," he said, "whether you who get sweaters will keep them. In order to keep them you've got to work it up to another fellow who has worked."

Alumni Wants Game

As are being arranged to have a practice game with the Alumni Sunday, at Reilly stadium. The game would do the Red and Black a lot of good, season the players, and give the inexperienced some chance to see what it is to work in an actual contest.

Lester Older, captain of the undefeated 1922 team is in charge of getting the Alumni outfit together. Only graduates of the last two years will be eligible for the game. If it is played, but according to Older's plans, most of the lineup will be confined to players of the year he was captain.

All players of that team, with the exception of Ed Sidingner and Patsy Konner, who are still with the high school, are available and have promised to play if the game is scheduled.

HOMEWORTH

Miss Dorothy Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Mills of Minerva, who was a member of the home graduating class at Minerva high school, has entered the Nurses Training school at the Aultman Hospital, Canton. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Mills were former residents of Homeworth.

Mr. and Mrs. William Worthman and son, Billie, who have been visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stark, have returned to their home in Chicago. Mrs. Worthman is a daughter of Caleb Stark of Chicago, formerly of North Georgetown.

Davis, 87, a retired farmer residing at Homeworth who died at his home Friday afternoon after a short illness of pneumonia were held Monday afternoon at the Salem Evangelical church in charge of Rev. R. L. Sutherland of West Salem. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Harry Floyd of Alliance was in the Homeworth oil field Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Freadly and son, Russell, have returned home from Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Daniels and daughter Corrine and Mrs. Eleanor Thomas of Canton spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thomas.

Record Potato Yield At Columbiana Farm

A harvest of 125 bushels of potatoes from one-fourth acre is a new record for potato yield at the Columbiana county home farm, it has been explained by Supt. John P. Neil. This special quarter acre was taken care of by the resident population only, while the additional seven acres of potatoes were looked after by the regular farm crew.

On the quarter acre patch, the ground was first treated with four spreads of manure, and later 375 pounds of 2-8-4 fertilizer. On this basis of yield an acre would have produced over 500 bushels of potatoes.

The other seven acres have not been harvested.

New York's Yankees are perched right back in old roosting place on top of league as result of taking two games from Connie Mack's Athletics. Here are photos which tell the story: Left, "Poosh 'em Up" Tony Lazzeri of the Yanks trapped between third and home in fifth inning of the first game; right, just a few of the folks in right field bleachers; below, Haas, of the Athletics, out trying to steal second, and, right, Miller Huggins, peppery manager of the Yanks, and Connie Mack, attenuated pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Yanks Trim Athletics On Babe's Homer

New York, Sept. 12.—The high-flying Yankees declare they will bury the Athletics once and for all by making it four straight at Yankee stadium this afternoon. W. Hoyt, prominent Brooklyn undertaker will conduct the services.

"The bunt that failed" gave the Yanks the third game, 5 to 3, snapped R. Moses Grove's 14-game winning streak, and ruined the attempt of Moses to lead the A's out of the wilderness in which they have wallowed for 14 years.

The score was tied and Gehrig was on second base. Manager Huggins ordered Ruth to attempt a sacrifice on the first pitch. And then to swing if the bunt failed. The bunt was foul by inches. Grove expected another one and pitched accordingly. Instead the ball sailed into the bleachers for the great bam's 49th homer.

The wallop marked the end of the straw hat season in New York. The diamond was littered with summer lids.

The lead of the Yanks is now 2 1/2 games, the same as the margin of the Cardinals over the Giants in the National League. The Cards trimmed the Reds, 6 to 3, but the Giants annexed their second consecutive double-header from the Braves and went into second place ahead of the Cubs.

FRANCE LOOMS AS TENNIS CHAMPION

BY MALCOM ROY

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Shadows of the advancing tri-color of France have already all but engulfed America's prospects of keeping the United States lawn tennis singles championship on this side of the Atlantic this season.

With the third round matches of the men's singles championships down for decision this afternoon no less than five sterling French players, headed by Henri Cochet, remain in the quest for the title while two of America's biggest guns, John Hennessey and Wilmer Allison, have been spiked.

Another sunset may see even further crippling of the Yankee defenders, for the steady Francis T. Hunter, ranking No. 2 player and Davis cup star, must play the fiery Jean Borotra this afternoon, while George M. Lott takes in Christian Bousset, another of the Frenchmen, and Dr. George King, conqueror of Hennessey, tackles Jacques Brugnon, one of the alternates on the French Davis cup team.

If Hunter plays the same sort of tennis that he exhibited in his first and second round matches against Norris Williams and Julius Seligson, the fascinating Basque may be the one who will drop out off the running, but the odds are admittedly against Hunter.

Lott, on form, should defeat Bousset, but form has not played a major part in the tournament to date.

That almost anything can happen in this topsy-turvy tournament was shown yesterday when "Junior" Coen came within an ace of taking a set from Cochet and gave the Frenchman a stubborn battle all through the three sets.

Cochet meets Fritz Mercier of Bethlehem, Pa., today. Mercier will be no set-up for the little Frenchman and will undoubtedly bother

Willys-Overland Production Large

The biggest year in Willys-Overland history with prosperity generally for the automotive industry during 1929 was forecast by President John N. Willys of the Willys-Overland company at a convention in Toledo of the company's Hundred Thousand Dollar club.

The company, Mr. Willys said, has plans in making, looking not only to increased production of Willys-Knight and Whippet cars but to entering the truck business on a large scale.

More than 90 of the company's crack retail salesmen, who sold more than $100,000 worth of Willys-Overland automobiles during the year, attended the convention of the Hundred Thousand Dollar club as guests of the company. Members of this club sold more than $12,000,000 worth of automobiles last year. C. J. Phillips of Toledo leads the field with $308,000 to his credit.

VON ELM OUT OF GOLF PLAY

BULLETIN
West Newton, Mass., Sept. 12.—In one of the most startling upsets of the year George Von Elm, former champion, was eliminated in the first round of the National Amateur championship today by Arthur Yates, Rochester, by a score of 3 up and 2 to play.

Light Team And Heavy Schedule At Alliance High

Alliance, Sept. 12.—With his squad averaging only slightly over 150 pounds, Coach George Wilcoxen, Alliance High athletic head, will place in the field this year one of the lightest grid teams to ever represent the Red and Blue.

Few heavyweights reported for the first regular workout of the squad, last week, according to Wilcoxen, in direct contrast to Alliance squads of past years, when the teams averaged regularly around 165.

One of the most attractive and stiffest schedules in years has been arranged for the season. Efforts are being made to secure Columbus South for a home game and all indications are that negotiations will be completed. Three other home games, with Canton McKinley, Massillon, and Warren are billed for Mount field.

Four open dates still remain of the schedule, one of which will be kept open as a breathing spell in the midst of the hard season. The others will probably be filled within the next week. The schedule is:

- Sept. 22—Uhrichsville, there.
- Sept. 29—Open.
- Oct. 6—Open.

SALEM TEAM MAY HAVE NEW COACH

Carlton "Ski" McFort, Lisbon, famous Carnegie Tech end, may be elected coach of the Althouse Studebakers, it was announced at last night's organization of the sandlot team held at the Memorial building.

Joe M. Kelley, manager of the team, suggested appointing McFort as coach, the suggestion being favored by each of the candidates for the team present.

Another meeting will be held Friday night at the Memorial building. All players who expect to go out for the team must be present that night, Kelley said. More candidates are wanted.

Mushball Season To Conclude With Play Scheduled For Friday

Ending the most successful mushball season held in history, the city championship Mullins Body Corporation outfit will meet the City All-Stars Friday night at Centennial park.

Much interest is shown by fandom in the coming game, a record-breaking attendance being expected. Proceeds of the game will be appropriated for a fund to help defray doctor's expenses for players who were injured while playing in the city playground baseball league this season.

A strong line-up has been selected for the All-Stars aggregation, which is expected to give the champs a hard run for a victory. Both teams are made up of the best players in the league and a fast game is expected.

The All-Stars will line up as follows: Judy Myers, (Masons) 2b; Harrington (Electric Furnace) 1b; Kelley (Masons) 3b; Frank Scullion (Salem China) c; Earley or Coffee (Colleagians) rf; P. Saunders (Masons) lf; Clarence Scullion (Salem China) ss; Herbert or Veon (Salem China) rss; Kridler (Colleagians) or McKee (Masons) mf; Hagan (City Hall) and Vincent (Salem China) pitchers.

Mullins Lineup

The Mullins lineup will include: Borlen, 1ss; Amsberg or Watkins, p; Fitzpatrick, 1f; Cecil Scullion, rf; Older, mf; Campbell, 3 b; Allen 2b; Schuller, c; Bolen, rss, and Morris, 1b.

Mullins is hoped to win the game by a scant margin because of the walkaway the champions had in the second half of the City League and their later win of the city titular series with the Masons, first half champs. Never a hard hitting team, this outfit is easily the best fielding aggregation in the circuit, winning the majority of its games through its advantage.

Backed from the remaining seven teams in the league as the fittest outfit to give Mullins plenty of competition, the All Stars too presents an outfit of fielders, and in addition boasts the better collection of hit-smiths.

Competition Hot

It will be the batting of the All Stars against the fielding of the Mullins. Pitching, of course, will have its say in the game, but in this the teams rate about even. The wares of the bodymakers' hurlers has never been really tested, fans claiming that the fielding saved them in most of their games, but according to results of games played neither Amsberg or Watkins did a bad job in the box.

Trapshoot Scheduled

A trapshoot will be held at Westville Lake, Saturday morning, under the auspices of the Salem Rifle club.

A single shoot match and five man team match will be held starting at 9:30 a. m.

A coon hunt and fishing contest will also be held.

Balmoral, Scotland—Queen Mary is indulging in one of her favorite sports, fishing, while on holiday here this year, and she doesn't hesitate to bait her own hook either. Queen Mary uses worms. Friends found her baiting the king's hook.

"THE COSSACKS"

John Gilbert and Renee Adoree open tonight at the State for a two-day stay of their latest starring feature, "The Cossacks."

"The Cossacks" catches the very spirit of the hardest fighters of all history, and indeed it should for a troop of them was brought from Europe to stage the sensational ride and enact the people of the Russian town in which the action is laid. A complete town was among the gigantic settings built for the play, with several hundred Russians living in it. Practically all the picture was directed in Russian, as, with the exception of the principals, the actors spoke no English. So it might almost as well have been actually made in Russia—and the spirit of the play shows it.

The central theme is the tender love tale of a boy and girl. This love story is set in the thunder of battle and the heat of adventure; massive hugeness of setting adds to this impression. But there is another note; the intense fanatical love of the old Cossack chief, played by Ernest Torrence, for his son, Gilbert is the son, a swaggering young Cossack soldier to whom the great truths in life come in the smoke of battle and the agony of torture. Grim in spots, compelling in realism, the play is, none the less, one of the most beautiful of romances.

"TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS"

Love and laughter, with two Arabian soldiers and an Arab girl as the principals, are the principal ingredients of "Two Arabian Knights" post-war doughboy comedy-drama which will be seen tonight at the Grand.

None of the sordidness of war enters the story, which is concerned with the rollicking experiences of a rich, young private and a hard-boiled first sergeant, fated to be buddies throughout a series of hilarious adventures, though they had been natural enemies.

In the film, two American doughboys, escaping from an enemy prison camp in Arab attire, find themselves shunted to Arabia, and helpless to prevent it. The things that happen to them may be funny to the spectator, but they are serious to the soldiers. However, with true American spirit they meet each obstacle lightly, overcome it, and pass on to a worse one. They have nothing but trouble until they meet an Arab girl of high rank. Then they have twice as much trouble.

The rich, young private, played by William Boyd, falls in love with the veiled beauty. So does his partner, the hard-boiled sergeant, played by Louis Wolheim, who created the role of Capt. Plagg in "What Price Glory?" on the stage in New York, and who is the instigator of half of the laughs in "Two Arabian Knights." Near-tragedy contrasts with humor when the carefree pair, worried about nothing beyond the next meal, fall into the hands of the Emir, father of the girl and of her fiancé.

Pressing Points On the Care of Clothing

"Children are about as much trouble grown up as when they are little."

An excuse given for tardiness at a bridge party by a mother who had been pressing and packing a son off on vacation. The other mothers present agreed in a passive sort of way, but we wager that every mother in her secret heart was glad it was so, and that they were really necessary to the grown-up youngsters and had not lost their jobs. Maybe they are not paying jobs, sometimes hardly "thank you" tasks, yet they are economically worth while.

The well-groomed young man cannot be so without help. And today to be well dressed is almost a necessity to the business man. Many reasons may be cited to prove the fact. For instance it is economy to have several business suits, two days' wear then two more days' rest for pressing, airing and giving the material a chance to rest and return to its normal weave. Experts do not believe in brushing material but in shaking, wiping with a clean flannel cloth and dusting (with the nap) with a very soft hair brush. Cleaning should be done by an expert when needed. Hanging continuously on frames stretches and sags loosely woven materials and spoils the style of a suit frequently. Do not buy two or more suits very similar in pattern and color. The mental uplift and fresh feeling is dimmed if there is no contrast. Too frequent pressing of trousers wears and breaks the threads.

Linens should be looked over, mended, have buttons sewed on if needed, before being sent to the laundry. Look them over again as they are put into the drawers.

Socks must be carefully washed and dried, then the first wee hole or running thread caught before any real damage is done. Here again a goodly supply is economy, the freshly washed being put at the bottom of the pile will not come in rotation often enough to impress the pattern on one's mind, or wear out too quickly. We all know that it is a saving to press ties after one or two wearings, it lengthens their life and insures a smarter, fresher appearance when tied. Busy men have no time to look after these details. Even though they may not appear to appreciate this help they really do, and it instills in them unconsciously a satisfaction in feeling well groomed, and in time to come they find that they have acquired the habit and will insist that their things shall be kept, shall we say, as mother kept them.

Daughters begin to care for themselves earlier than sons, yet most of them think that no one can tie a sash, add a bow or finishing touch just as mother does it.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. In restlessness, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

The new Buick is the New Style

Gracful contours instead of straight lines... the gleam and sparkle of brilliant colors and chrome plating instead of drab effects... the most beautiful bodies ever built... Buick's masterpiece bodies by Fisher

At a time when motor car beauty was practically standardized—when imitation was the vogue—when there was a glaring lack of originality in body design—Buick has swept far beyond the commonplace and achieved a style which the entire country is acclaiming as the most distinctive and beautiful ever shown!

Fisher, the world's foremost builder of automobile bodies, has cooperated with Buick, the world's foremost builder of fine cars, to create a new mode—a new fashion—and so luminous is the result and so eagerly is the public welcoming it that Buick's great factories have reached new production levels in an effort to keep pace with an ever increasing demand!

Inside and out, the new Buick bodies by Fisher are the most beautiful ever built. Together with the wonderful new standards of performance introduced by the Silver Anniversary Buick, they are winning the greatest demand and the greatest preference ever enjoyed by any fine car!

The new Buick is the new style! And by that is meant, not merely a new type of beauty—not merely a thrilling turning point in body design—but a great countrywide vogue!

SCIENTISTS TO TALK NITROGEN AT CONFERENCE

Most Vital Factor In farm To Be Discussed At Meeting

Swampscott, Mass., Sept. 12.—Called the most vital factor in farm relief today, nitrogen, in all its phases, will be discussed at a national symposium of scientists, farmers, manufacturers, and heads of agricultural organizations here soon in connection with the 67th meeting of the American Chemical society.

Nitrogen as a controlling influence in the world economic situation, in national defense, and in the post-war chemical industry in the United States, will be the subject of conferences and discussions, according to the announcement of William Haynes, of New York, chairman of the symposium.

Building Plants
Attention is called by the announcement to the building of air nitrogen plants by all the leading nations, which asserts that the symposium was arranged for the purpose of disclosing the facts of a situation, economic, military, and industrial, which are of vast importance.

"The farmers throughout the world," Mr. Haynes stated in his announcement, "appreciate the value of nitrogen in producing bigger crops at less cost. But, no matter how much they may wish to use more, they cannot, until their condition is improved."

United States Senator Arthur R. Capper of Kansas and Governor Samuel R. McKelvie, Nebraska are among those who are expected to speak for the agricultural interests. Dr. Walter S. Landis, of New York, will present a paper on the "International Nitrogen Problem."

Other speakers and their topics include: Jasper E. Crane, Wilmington, Del., "The New Place of Nitrogen in Chemical Economics"; E. M. Allen, New York, "Synthetic Ammonia"; H. R. Bates, Atlanta, Ga., "Nitrogen and Fertilizers"; Charles J. Ramsberg, Pittsburgh, Pa., "By-Product Nitrogen."

Nitrogen commands the center of the stage in the discussion alike of statesmen, farmers and chemists, says Chairman Haynes.

"As the most expensive element that enters into the fertilizers, it has a highly important bearing on the farm costs and a consequent importance in any efforts to better the economic condition of American agriculture. Nitrogen is the most vital element in fertilizers, hence in farm relief."

"Within the past two years the monopoly formerly exercised by the natural product, Chile nitrates, has been broken by the production of synthetic nitrogen from the air to a total tonnage that already exceeds the output of the Chile mines."

Predicted Starvation
Mr. Haynes stated that thirty years ago, Sir William Crookes, a British scientist, warned that the human race would be starved out for lack of nitrogen, one of the most important elements of plant food.

"At that time, the sole source of supply was natural nitrates. Today the chemist by extracting nitrogen from the air, has smashed this doleful prophecy and it is now estimated that over every square foot of the earth's surface, there are twenty million tons of nitrogen. The world's total consumption each year is one and a half million tons."

"Practically every country has built, or is building, an air nitrogen plant, subsidized by government funds, in order to assure itself of an independent supply of this element, which is as necessary in the manufacture of explosives as it is in the growing of food-stuffs."
